NEWS BY TELEGRAPH.

WITHDRAWN FROM WASHINGTON.

Joseph Holt of Kentucky, Appointed Postmaster-General.

Appointment of Minister to Bogota—Chief Justice of Kansas, &c.

Proceeds of the Late Postmaster-General—The Senate Ready to Adjourn.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, March 9.

Commissioner of Patents Holt has been appointed and confirmed as Postmaster-General.

In addition to the confirmation of the appointment of James Reid as Postmaster-General, the Senate confirmed Mr. Bonham, as Surveyor of Texas, for which Mr. Wheeler, who recently resigned, has resigned.

The Senate also confirmed the following: G. W. Jones, Surveyor of Iowa, as Minister to Bogota; Benjamin F. Thomas, as Chief Justice of Kansas; Thomas Bragg, of North-Carolina, Solicitor of the Treasury; Barney D. Fox, of Illinois, appointed as Collector of Toledo, with many others.

Many letters have been received at the public departments from the country, in positive expression of regret and sympathy on the death of such an Executive officer of the Government.

The City Councils met this morning and passed resolutions of respect to the memory of late Post-Master Reed, and adjourned; after the Council, and that the Corporation of Philadelphia, in order, the Council, and that the Corporation will wear the usual badge of mourning for a body, in their official capacity.

The Executive Departments are draped in mourning, and will close for public business.

The chief of the Patent is not decided upon.

The bill Congress passed on act affording the Heirs of Lafayette, which has been in dispute for a century, and which is worth more than five millions of dollars. There seemed to be the grant, but, delayed in obtaining a patent in 1824, but two years which have elapsed such was brought to test the validity of the title, which Judge Lewis pronounced inoperative and void. The lands thus become subject to survey and sale. In June, 1858, notwithstanding this judicial proceeding, a law was passed recognizing, owing to its phraseology, to the benefit of the grantees, but the last act arrests the patent to them until the end of the next Congress, in order that, in the meantime, justice may be secured to the five hundred or more settlers to the grant, twenty-thirty thousand acres, worth a million of dollars, and one or two others the remainder.

EXTRA SESSION OF THE SENATE.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, March 9.

On motion of Mr. COLLAMER a resolution was adopted, calling on the Postmaster-General to state at the next session report the number of letters contained in the dead-letter office, and what legislation is necessary to diminish the number or insure their return to the writers thereof.

Mr. TRUMBULL desired to make an explanation of a personal character in regard to an editorial in the Washington Union, and also a statement of Senator CHESNUT, in the same paper of Tuesday, on the subject of the defeat of the Post-office Appropriation bill and throwing on the Republicans the responsibility of the failure.

Mr. JOHNSON, of Arkansas, raised a point of order, that there was nothing before the Senate on which a personal explanation could be heard.

Mr. TRUMBULL said the object was not to delay the Senate unnecessarily.

Mr. HUNTER moved to lay that all were anxious to get away to-day. If the Senator from Illinois opened this subject, it would lead to an interminable debate.

Mr. TRUMBULL again rose to speak.

Messrs. TRUMBULL and MALLORY severally raised points of order.

The Vice-President remarked that Mr. TRUMBULL must have unanimous consent, and that that question should be submitted to the Senate.

Mr. TRUMBULL dissented from this ruling, and asked whether one dissenting voice should at any time in future prevent a Senator from explaining what affect of his character as a gentleman. He only wanted the truth to prevail, and to correct some erroneous statements.

Mr. MALLORY moved to go into Executive session.

Mr. TRUMBULL claimed that he had the floor.

However, the question was taken, and Mr. MALLORY's motion agreed to—27 against 15.

After the doors were opened the Vice-President resumed the chair, and, on motion of Mr. BIGLER, it was ordered that Mr. FESSENDEN be President pro tem. of the Senate.

A message was received from the President announcing the death of Mr. BROWN, the Postmaster-General. He says:

"The death of this distinguished public officer, occurring at the present moment, when his eminent services are so much needed, is a great loss to the country. His honesty and indefatigable exertions in the discharge of his high duties, as well as his benevolent heart and kind deportment, endeared him to all who approached him."

The President adds:

"Submitting to the will of Divine Providence, he will ever cherish his memory with affectionate regard."

Mr. FESSENDEN said the sad intelligence justified some action on the part of the Senate, expressive of their deep sense of the public loss by the death of the late Postmaster-General. He had known him well in all his public relations to the country for more than 20 years, and had been closely associated with him in the walks of private life; therefore, he could fully appreciate his services as a public man and his generous and noble qualities. After pronouncing a eulogy on the deceased, he submitted resolutions expressive of deep regret at this sudden loss; that the Senate will attend the funeral, and that a Committee be appointed to make arrangements for the same; that the Senate will go into mourning for thirty days; that a copy of these resolutions be communicated to the President, and that as a further mark of respect the Senate do now adjourn.

The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Previous to the adjournment Messrs. RUSK and FOOTE were appointed a Committee to wait on the President, and inform him that if there was no further business to communicate the Senate were ready to adjourn sine die. Adjourned.

Last Hours of the Postmaster-General.

The Hon. HORATIO KING, First Assistant Post-Master-General, in an eulogium of Governor BROWN, after leaving of the Department yesterday, said:

"I saw Gov. BROWN for the last time on Wednesday morning, the day after he was attacked. He was taken with a severe chill on the Monday night previous, and this was followed by a high fever, resulting in congestion of the lungs, at 2 o'clock on Tuesday morning. The disease had been checked when I saw, and he was comparatively comfortable. He had sent for me to inquire about the business of the Department, and was especially anxious to know what Congress was doing in regard to the Post-office bills before it. I gave him as brief and favorable account thereof as possible, for the physician charged me to occupy his attention but a few moments, and I left him in the fond hope that he would soon recover. But, alas! congestion had already settled upon one of his lungs, and at about 2 o'clock of the same day the other was attacked, from which time until his death his condition became alarmed daily. He sent for me again the next day, and also for his Third Assistant, who, unknown to us, had remained upon the bed of death; but his physicians had left strict explicit orders for him to be kept quiet, and I declined to go into his room, excusing myself by an encouraging note, which appeared to satisfy him. With occasional interruptions from the effects of his fever, he lived, for a moment the hopes of his family and friends, he continued to sink until death came to his relief. There is no doubt that his great concern relative to the Post-office Department, in the prosperity of which, from the day he took charge of it, he has felt the most lively interest, operated seriously against his recovery. In reply to one of his attending physicians on this subject, during one of the intervals of partial relief, he said, with much emphasis: 'Yes, Doctor, I have thought.' His interview with the President, whom he recognized and conversed with some time last night, is represented to have been most solemn and affecting. He took leave of his family with all that warmth of affection he always, in so remarkable a manner, displayed toward them; he to dearly loved. His devoted wife and affectionate step-daughter watched over him every moment to the last, and kind friends were ever ready to assist."

From the National Intelligencer.

At about 11 o'clock P. M. on Monday, the President called to see the Postmaster-General, and the last interview between these two high officers of the Government was quite touching. As Mr. BUCHANAN was about to leave the room, which he had quietly entered, and from which he was noiselessly departing, Mrs. BROWN approached to her husband, that the President desired to inquire into the condition of his health. He quickly answered that he would be glad to see him. When Mr. BUCHANAN returned to his brother, Mr. A'CORN remarked: "Mr. BUCHANAN, I have a second publicity to discharge all my public duties which the Sec. Wont replied that his efforts had been successful, and that the whole country would sympathize among the congregation. In allusion to escape fear or five persons were killed and several injured.

DEFEAT OF COL. MIRAMON—REVOLT AT TAMPICO—WAR PREPARATIONS.

By the arrival of the steamship Arizona at New-Orleans, we have advices from the Rio Grande to Feb. 24.

The Brownsville Flag of that date has the following news from Mexico.

The Boletin Oficial of Monterey contains the following particulars of the victory recently obtained by a portion of the Liberal Army of the North over the Reactionists under Col. JOAQUIN MIRAMON, a brother of the General of that name:

The action took place not far from Aguascalientes at a village called Rincon de Romos. MIRAMON is represented to have attacked the Liberals under JUAROGA, who repulsed him three several times, and finally put him to flight. This is claimed as a sanguinary engagement; but we find in the list of the killed and wounded only 23 of the first and 11 of the latter. The victors also publish a list of 29 prisoners, embracing 1 captain, 1 second sergeant, 1 corporal and 25 privates. The killed and wounded of the enemy are not given.

Col. MIRAMON, who escaped and was mustering a new brigade, had declared a war without quarter, and had already summarily executed several of the Liberals who had accidentally fallen into his hands.

It is said that a pronunciamiento had been suppressed at Tampico. The plot was discovered before the plans had ripened.

Señor D. ANDRES TREVINO, "Political Chief of the Northern District" of the State of Tamaulipas, had effected negotiations for 800 new rifles of the best quality, 100 shooting pistols, and 300,000 percussion caps. It is not stated whence they come.

The munitions of war which the State had placed at the disposition of VIDAURRI were also en route to the Army of the North.

The Brownsville Flag notices the passage through that city of a large amount of travel, principally from Texas, by sea as well as by land, en route to Mexico, "to purchase horses."

The Mystic Bridge Murder.

ARREST OF THE SUPPOSED MURDERER IN THIS CITY—THE PRISONER'S ACCOUNT OF HIMSELF.

A murder, unusually brutal in its details, was committed, about two years ago, at Mystic Bridge, Conn. The murdered man, whose name was JOHN HUMPHREYS, a ship-carpenter by trade, was found the morning after the murder in the Mystic River, with his arms and legs severed from his body, his ears cut off, and otherwise shockingly mutilated. Suspicion rested upon an Irishman, named WILLIAM GORDON, who was alleged to have been seen with Mr. HUMPHREYS on the night of the murder, and who soon after disappeared from the place. Nothing has been heard from him since that time until yesterday, when a man, whose name is unknown, informed Officer ARTHUR JOHNSON, of the Eleventh Precinct, that GORDON was at work on the ship J. A. Westervelt, at the foot of Pike-street. The officer repaired to the vessel, where he found the man as described, arrested him, and took him to the Eleventh Ward Station-house. On being informed of the charge made against him GORDON simply replied that he "had been expecting it." He was taken from there to the Police Headquarters, where, after undergoing a short examination from Superintendent TALMADGE, he was conveyed before Justice WELSH, who granted a temporary commitment of the prisoner to the Tombs until intelligence could be received from the scene of the murder. The prisoner was first quite non-communicative, but at length the following disconnected and somewhat contradictory statements were obtained from him: At first he denied having more than a casual acquaintance with the murdered man, and said that he left Mystic Bridge three or four years ago, and had heard accounts of the murder, or rather, as he expressed it, he had "heard that the man was drowned." He afterwards confessed to a better acquaintance with Mr. HUMPHREYS, told his business and nationality, and finally admitted that "on that night he was with him in his bedroom." On being asked what night he referred to, he hesitated for a while, and finally said "the night he went off and wasn't seen again." He said he was with Mr. HUMPHREYS on the night in question, and that HUMPHREYS, being drunk, asked him to see him home, which he did, and took him up stairs to his bedroom; that he then left him, and after he had gone, HUMPHREYS got up and told his fellow lodgers that he was going out and they wouldn't see him again. He afterwards heard he was drowned, and that is all he knew about the matter. He says he worked off and on, at Mystic and New-London, three or four years at the business of ship-fastening. He left Mystic and came to New-York in company with a man named MANNING, whose present whereabouts and business he does not know, although he says he met him in this City three or four months since. Since leaving Mystic, he says he has lived most of the time at Yonkers, where he has been in the employ of several men, among whom he mentions Mr. D. CROWELL and Mr. SAMUEL BABCOCK, merchant of this City. During the last Summer, he worked a portion of the time in Putnam County, for an agent of Mr. CROWELL. On the 9th of December last, he says, he came to this City, and has lived since that time in Williamsburg. He says he has been eight years in the country, is 35 years old, and was never married. He is a small man, both in stature and build; has dark-brown hair, and a not uncommonly vicious-looking countenance.

The Police have sent several telegraphic dispatches to Mystic relative to the arrest, but had received no answer at the last accounts—the place being some sixteen miles from a telegraph station. Sergeant BENYOUNT went on to Connecticut last evening to ascertain the particulars of the murder and give information of the arrest. Meanwhile, the prisoner will be detained at the Tombs.

A telegraphic dispatch was received last evening from Sheriff FATHE, of New-London, stating that GORDON was wanted on a charge of murdering HUMPHREYS, and that he would come after GORDON.

The Virginia Historical Society and the Virginia Library Company are concerting measures for the establishment of a library and gallery of paintings at Richmond.

Terrible Disaster.

EXPLOSION OF THE MISSISSIPPI STEAMER PRINCESS—75 TO 100 PASSENGERS KILLED—100 WOUNDED—SCENES OF DEATH AND DISTRESS.

A telegram from New-Orleans, published on the 1st instant, briefly announced the explosion of the steamer Princess on the Mississippi, with dreadful loss of life. The New-Orleans papers give full particulars of the disaster. The names of the killed have not been fully ascertained, but it is supposed that from seventy-five to one hundred lives were lost. Upwards of one hundred persons were wounded.

The Princess was about four years old, a first-class packet, plying between New-Orleans and Vicksburg. She was put in through repair last Summer, at a cost of $20,000. On Sunday morning, Feb. 27, at about 10 o'clock, while on her way to New-Orleans, her boilers exploded. Out of four hundred passengers on board, two hundred were killed or injured. The engineer says that four of the steam pipe, or flue boilers exploded at once, driving all, blasting all before them, and the whole upper cabin, state rooms, furniture, men, and all, fell in almost immediately, and in a few minutes the remains lay forty feet below. The shock was terrible, and a momentary stupor succeeded, unbroken by any sympathy in those bewildered, the bravest and most experienced men.

The chief engineer, ABRY STERRY, had waked his watch at 6 A. M., when the second engineer, EDWIN BERRY, was on, and was attending to his duty when the explosion occurred, he being the first victim. He was cut in two.

The force of the explosion, or some other lucky accident, gave the boat a turn towards the bank. She soon struck on a sand-bar that jutted out into the river from the shore, and where she grounded. The mate on duty, with several of the crew, jumped on the bar and succeeded in making the boat fast. In the meanwhile, those who were uninjured, busied themselves in endeavoring to extricate their unfortunate companions buried in the burning ruins of the cabin, and gathered in which were many ladies and children. All who could be moved, wounded or not, were taken on the sand-bank, there to await, in a state of agony and horror that can faintly be imagined, the hand of rescue from some passing vessel.

The commission packet to the Princess, the steamboat Natchez, which left here on Saturday afternoon, was the first boat to near the disastrous scene.

The Natchez laid by the wreck for some hours, her officers, crew and passengers exerting themselves to the utmost to give all the relief in their power, and soon this steamer started on her way up the river, her decks filled with mattresses, on which reclined the blackened forms of those who, but a day before, had left their homes to spend the last joyous week of the Carnival in the Crescent City.

The loss is a total loss. No papers, books, or other property was saved. Captain THOMASSON, of the steamboat Magnolia, arrived last night from Vicksburg, informed us that he laid by the sand bar some time, but nothing of the wreck could be seen; and the sand-bar itself was deserted. Nothing remained to tell of the accident but a few cotton bales floating about, here and there.

No complete lists of the killed and wounded are published. The following are all the names yet ascertained:

KILLED—J. W. Seymour, of Baton Rouge; Mr. Cal houn, of Maysville, Ky.; Mr. Hodges, of Franklin County, Miss.; S. M. Murphy; Mr. Forrigue, cigar maker, of Baton Rouge; Collin, M. Kingston, passenger; Edward Quigg, barkeeper; Carey, assistant barkeeper; Henry Brown, assistant barkeeper; Reuben Ure, (colored); three persons names unknown; S. H. Lurdy, of Bayou Sara, La.; Mr. L. Brewer; Messrs. Huard and Atkinson, residence not ascertained; A. W. Delle, of Clinton, La.; George Evans, of Natchez; Joshua Johns, third engineer; Peter Hersey, second engineer; Mr. Meehan, deck hand; H. Wilcox, of Ashwood, La.—Total, so far as known, 23.

DANGEROUSLY INJURED.—Mr. N. B. Phillips, of Bayou Sara, reported to be in a dying state. Judge Farrar, of Point Coupée, is dangerously injured; James Inod, Clerk of the Princess; L. D. Brewer and W. B. Phillips, of Bayou Sara; Messrs. Hall and Rodney; Joe Clark, second clerk; J. F. Scott, of Tensas; Agustus de Lee, of Clinton; F. Burgat, of Natchez; J. J. Hodges, of Franklin, Miss.; Mr. Cockburn, connected with the house of Cahey & Hawkins, of New-Orleans; Mr. Barbour, Point Coupée; M. Vigne, Point Coupée; F. A. Chatham, Baton Rouge; J. M. Clay, New-Orleans; Philip Phelps, Baton Rouge; E. B. Murphy, St. Louis; Anderson, colored waiter; C. M. Kingston, of New-Orleans; Saml Watts, of Virginia; Mr. Baxter, of Rapides; Judge Boyce and nephew; J. D. Corseaux and Mr. Murphy, of Baton Rouge; Mr. Alley, of Point Coupée. Advocates of the Dale report that Mr. C. P. Williams, of Houston, Texas, was found on the sand-bar so badly injured that he was near the point of death.

MISSING.—A son of W. B. Stuart, of Fayette, Miss.; Mr. Brandon, Clerk of the Court, Natchez; two brothers, of the name of Mann, of Fayette, Miss.; James Tate and W. Jones, of Natchez; Col. Coffey, of Grand Gulf; Dr. Richards, of Point Coupée; Mr. Bell, of New-Orleans; B. W. Shortridge, of Baton Rouge; Charles Baudin, Representative from New-Orleans; B. L. Hunter, Representative from New-Orleans; Dennis Jackson; Messrs. John Clark, Clayton Taylor, of Baton Rouge.

The Picayune gives long lists of persons slightly injured, who will recover. It adds:

The list of the lost, so far as ascertained, comes in from somewhere; but melancholy additions, it is feared, will be made to it; while we have hopes that some of those reported dead may be rescued, having been picked up by steamboats, or by some other happy intervention, to the shore.

Nothing has been heard of the fate of Messrs. HUARD and BARRISTER, members of the Legislature from New-Orleans. Parties went down to-day in search of these gentlemen.

When the House met to-day, Mr. LAWRASON moved that it adjourn, in respect to the absent members, Messrs. BARRISTER and HUARD, whose fate was yet unascertained. The motion was agreed to, and the House adjourned. A similar motion was made in the Senate by Mr. TUCKER, and was accepted at once.

JOHN M. BELL is thought to be certainly lost, and there is no man among us who could be more generally regretted. He was one of our oldest men of business, and had carried on for a long series of years undertakings of great extent and vast responsibilities.

The population all along the line from this to Natchez is generally of a wealthy and refined class. They are hospitable, and receive many guests. They interchange visits with each other, and there come frequently to the city, especially at Carnival times, when there are so many gayeties. This trip of the Princess, moreover, was expected to bring down a considerable number of members of the Legislature, in their customary visit to the city after a week's adjournment. She was, therefore, known to be full of passengers—mostly well known in New-Orleans—and many of them closely connected with families here. When, therefore, the rumor spread that she had been burned up, with a great loss of life, the consternation and alarm were great.

The following incidents are narrated:

Dr. VAUGHAN and Mr. BIRD instantly jumped into a skiff, with some negroes to row, and pulled over. Dr. V. insisted on landing, that he might help those on shore; and Mr. B. pulled down stream and picked up five persons from the water or clinging to the cotton bales.

The first person Dr. V. met was Mrs. CORNY, herself safe, but frantic at the fact that her husband was on board, and burning up! And of that there is not a doubt. Dr. V. heard not a cry on board the burning wreck; but those which arose from the river and from the shore were so awful in their nature that he cannot rest or sleep from their wringing in his ears. He was half across the river before the fire broke out in the ladies' cabin; but before he landed the flames were breaking out at the stern.

Mr. AMEDE LANDRY, of West Baton Rouge, was very active in saving the sufferers. He got into a skiff on the west side of the river, and pulled at once below the wreck, and he and the others with him saved seven or eight lives.

Disastrous Conflagration in Memphis.

FIVE NEWSPAPER OFFICES AND SEVERAL STORES BURNED—HEAVY LOSS.

From the Memphis Appeal, 4th.

We stated in yesterday's paper that at the time of going to press a fire was raging at the corner of Main and Monroe streets, which broke out in the premises occupied by the Eagle and Enquirer. The flames continued to spread until the whole mass of buildings bounded by Main and Union streets, and by the two alleys in the rear, were quite destroyed, and nearly the whole of the buildings, which were of brick, were levelled with the ground. The fire broke out in the mailing room of the Enquirer, which office has been fired four times before within a year, and has been burned out twice before since its existence. The Avalanche office, which has been fired eight times within the last few months, was in the same building. The jobbing establishment of HUTCH & CLARKE, and the office of the Ledger, were in the same block, and connected with these offices were the offices of the Christian Advocate and the Presbyterian Sentinel, all which were consumed by the flames. The three former of these papers are dailies, the two latter weeklies. Nearly forty printers are thus thrown out of work. The flames spread from one to the other of the closely-packed buildings almost without check. The streets were very deeply covered with mud, making it difficult to move the engines, and there are no few public cisterns, even in this central and thickly built upon portion of the city, that the daring and laborious efforts of the firemen were of comparatively little avail.

Among the property destroyed was the following: HUTCH & CLARKE's job printing establishment. The loss was $15,000. The material of a bookbinder's shop in the same building was consumed; loss $1,000. This building belonged to SAMUEL W. NYNAS; was worth $2,500. At the southwest corner of Monroe and Main streets, store of GILBERT & WARNER, jewelers and watchmakers. HERMREN & BROS., confectioners and toy dealers, lost $5,000. M. STILLMAN & Co.'s millinery and fancy goods establishment lost $12,000. In the same building was the Eagle and Enquirer office, where the fire originated. The loss is $7,000; insurance $3,000. The books of the office are in the safe, buried beneath the ruins. The Avalanche was in the same building; all the books were got away safely. Loss $2,000. WM. H. HUNT's china store; loss $11,000. SAPPERINGS & STRATTON, tin and stove store. Loss $12,000. The three last houses were owned by J. M. LEE, who had $5,000 insurance on each of them. Dr. GRAY, dentist, had rooms over the above store; loss $2,000.

A movement is on foot to surround the tombstone of Byron, at Harrow, with a neat iron railing, and subscriptions are asked for the purpose. It seems that the Vandalism of unscrupulous persons, in chipping off pieces of the tomb, has been carried so far that a very considerable portion of the inscription is now deficient.

The Tragedy at Hawesville, Ky.

FURTHER DEVELOPMENTS—FINDING OF A DEAD BODY OF MAN—REMARKABLE PERSEVERANCE OF A GRAND JURY.

Some curious developments have been made public in relation to the recent affray at Hawesville, Ky. The Louisville Journal of the 5th says:

"The Grand Jury report that LOWE was proved to have a coat of mail on the day before the affray, but they say nothing as to his having worn it in the fight. We have been told correctly, now, a fact that he did wear it upon that occasion. Our informant, who was a spectator of the scene, says that at least two or twenty-five and twenty-six pistol shots were fired at Lowe, and that he received two bullet and buck-shot holes through all portions of his coat, but that not a solitary ball or shot pierced the body, or even drew a drop of blood. Twenty-seven pistols were fired at Bowman's distance of not more than six feet, and he was repeatedly knocked down and stunned, and the blows of the pistols which struck his head were so severe as to have produced concussions of the brain. The ball which struck his temple was a very severe blow and did not enter the skin. Our informant says, that he point of the weapon, Bowman's pistol was pointing.

"The Grand Jury of Hancock County have made a presentment on the facts in the affray and conclusion as follows:

"In reference to the killing of LOWE, on the next day, which we were informed, occurred in the jail, a difference of opinion seems to the Grand Jury. A majority of the Jury, however, believe that the lives of the two persons by whom he was said to have been slain were threatened by him, and would have been unsafe if he had been permitted to live, and that the same principles of self-preservation, which justified the killing of ALEXANDER were applicable to the killing of LOWE. The Grand Jury unitedly deplore that so great provocation to violence existed in this county, and that blood has been shed in the very presence of justice. They hope sincerely that the bloody proceedings referred to may have a salutary effect upon the community; that the result may inculcate a desire to have the laws promptly administered, and impress upon those who disregard the rights of others the certainty that, in the judgment of all good men, the law is magnified when he who without right appeals to the sword is by the sword destroyed. They all regret that the law should have been inadequate to remedy the existing evil. It is plain the law must protect men or they will protect themselves, and this Jury seriously fear that unless the law is made to act more vigorously, force will assume the sceptre, and the rights of the citizens be determined by the strong arm of violence. They also hope that those who assumed the redress of their own and the wrongs of the public will not so act in removing a public terror as to become a substitute for the same in the community, and that a love of law and order may from this day distinguish and redeem the citizens of Hancock County.

WILLIAM ADAMS, Sr., Foreman.

Several citizens of Hawesville, friends of LOWE, had left the place, fearing violence. Among them were Mr. HOGE, a merchant, who is now in Louisville, Colonel JOHNSON, a coal merchant; and Mr. POWER, a merchant.

A Fraudulent Bank Scheme.

ARREST OF THE CONSPIRATORS—A BOGUS BANK IN INDIANA—$60,000 OF WORTHLESS BILLS—CURIOUS DEVELOPMENTS.

By the aid of St. Louis detectives, parties engaged in an enormous fraud upon the public, through the agency of a bogus banking institution in Indiana, have been caught and committed for trial. The St. Louis Democrat gives a long history of the case. We condense the principal facts. The institution took the name of the "Farmers' and Drovers' Bank of Petersburg, Indiana." The chief operators appear to have been WILLIAM O'BRIEN and JAMES WELLS, the latter passing as Cashier of the bank, and the former as Agent. Both these men are in custody at St. Louis. O'BRIEN was formerly a quack doctor, largely engaged in the sale of patent medicines in Philadelphia. Among his victims appears FRANCIS JACKSON RYMAN, of Odessa, Del., one of whose letters was found in O'BRIEN's possession. This individual seems to have selected of O'BRIEN's letter, and the following passage occurs in his letter:

"I have received your circular, and you be right in Moyamensing, one year for forging and false pretense. You will know the reason I could not find money, $100, you never have seen a dollar in the store. If I were put on trial in my city, they did put me in, I would not escape so easy. The other was for loan, cashiers, &c., and cannot find, &c. I never thought your wife an honest sort of a woman, but if things go on as they are now going I shall change my opinion; so for yourself, I suppose you will take no offence when I candidly tell you that you are, without any exception, the biggest liar I ever met with in this entire world. Just look for a moment over the promises and improvements you held out to me to go into that occurred yesterday and just look at the promises you have made others. Here are four days gone, and I only put in $200 or $300, I'll do all the rest; I'll push the business through."

What a beautiful newspaper paragraph I could write, headed 'Look out for the Scoundrel.'"

This, however, is not the Bank story, but a preliminary chapter in O'BRIEN's history. The bank swindle seems to have been contemplated as early as May, 1857. Another letter, found among O'BRIEN's effects, reads as follows:

NEW-YORK, May 10, 1857.

Capt. O'BRIEN—Dear Sir: I find it will be impossible to do anything with the Pittsburg before the last of the month.

The fact is, that PRATT had no power to make a sale of the bank, and the whole thing has got to be done, if at all, under a new and distinct arrangement. Keep this a secret.

I shall return in a few days to Baltimore.

Yours truly, L. BROWN.

Under date of Feb. 1, 1859, power of attorney was conferred by JAMES WELLS, of Brooklyn, N. Y., upon WILLIAM O'BRIEN, of New-York City, to sign his (WELLS') name as Cashier of the Farmers' and Drovers' Bank, of Petersburg, Indiana—the power to last for six months.

On the 12th of February, there had appeared in the local column of the Petersburg (Ind.) Reporter the following:

"A BANK.—Two gentlemen by the name of WELLS and O'BRIEN, from Philadelphia, Penn., are making preparations to start a bank in this town. We are not advised of further particulars."

But, on the 27th of the preceding January, Dyer's Wall-street Detector and North American Money Guide quotes in its list of sound Indiana banks, in good black capitals, the "Farmers' and Drovers' Bank, Petersburg, Pike County, Indiana." This was two weeks before the Petersburg paper, "not advised as to further particulars," announced Messrs. WELLS and O'BRIEN as "making preparations to start at bank in that town."

Towards the end of February, (says the St. Louis Democrat,) WELLS and O'BRIEN came to St. Louis. Also for the Farmers' and Drovers' Bank of Indiana! Not DIX, nor PARDOCK, nor the Petersburg Reporter, could save the beneficent institution! Marshal RAWLINS's Detectives "smelt a mice" at the Virginia and the Missouri Hotel, and the Cashier and his legally reduplicated self were, on last Sunday evening, consigned to the calaboose.

Among O'BRIEN's documents was found the following:

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 20, 1859.

E. A. BRANDREB, Esq.—Dear Sir: On or about the 1st of this month, while yet in the City of New-York, I entered into a contract with Mr. JAMES WELLS to act as Agent, or Assistant Cashier, and he gave me full power of attorney to act, and to do all things pertaining to said office as full as though done by himself. On his giving me certain assurances I accepted the office, which condition I will now specify. He agreed to pay all my traveling expenses and furnish me with one hundred dollars, and in addition to give me a salary of one hundred dollars a month, and in consideration of my assistance in this matter he was, when finding he should take the duties of said office upon himself, and thus supersede me, to favor me to the amount of several thousand dollars in Eastern Funds; besides, he promised to leave with me several hundred dollars in specie or currency, to redeem such notes as might be presented from time to time. I have not complied with all the requirements on my part up to this time, &c.

No signature was affixed to the preceding, but O'BRIEN states he wrote it to send to BRANDREB. He further avers that from the first he was ignorant of the nature of the enterprise, and was deceived into it.

It appears that not less than $60,000 of this fraudulent money had been stamped and signed, and was ready for issue! About $2,000 of it is in the hands of Marshal RAWLINS.

An illustration of the plausibility given to the transaction appears from a letter of Messrs. HATCH BROS. & Co., at Iowa City, who address our worthy bankers, courageously proposing to give the new currency a circulation in Iowa!

We will only add that, in 1854, WM. O'BRIEN appears to have been President of the "San Fernando Copper Mining Company," of which A. P. GILES was then Secretary, and the shares in which was estimated at $10 each.

Smith O'Brien in Washington.

From the Washington Star, 8th.

Although, since his arrival in this city, Mr. SMITH O'BRIEN has avoided anything like a public demonstration, he has been quietly engaged in acquainting himself with the operations of our institutions and with the general condition of our people.

Of the invitations received from gentlemen identified with politics, Mr. O'BRIEN has accepted so far only those from Senator WM. H. SEWARD, of New-York, and the Hon. ALEXANDER H. STEPHENS, of Georgia. Regarding these gentlemen as the representatives of the two extremes of our national political sentiments, and being desirous of mingling with our public men, he rightfully concluded that in their acceptance he would gratify his own wishes, and at the same time preserve himself from any appearance of espousing the peculiar tenets of either party. A great proportion of his time has been devoted to informing himself about the condition of the Irish-American element of the population. He has mingled with these to a greater degree than with other classes, and, as is perfectly natural, appears peculiarly interested in them.

On last Sunday he partook of an entertainment, at the invitation of the Rev. Dr. O'TOOLE, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, at the residence of that gentleman. There was quite a large company present, among whom were Mayor BARNES, JOHN MITCHEL and JOHN

The Tragedy at Hawesville, Ky.

FURTHER DEVELOPMENTS—FINDING OF A DEAD BODY OF MAN—REMARKABLE PERSEVERANCE OF A GRAND JURY.

Some curious developments have been made public in relation to the recent affray at Hawesville, Ky. The Louisville Journal of the 5th says:

"The Grand Jury report that LOWE was proved to have a coat of mail on the day before the affray, but they say nothing as to his having worn it in the fight. We have been told correctly now, a fact that he did wear it upon that occasion. Our informant, who was a spectator of the scene, says that at least two or twenty-five and twenty-six pistol shots were fired at Lowe, and that he received two bullet and buck-shot holes through all portions of his coat, but that not a solitary ball or shot pierced the body, or even drew a drop of blood. Twenty-seven pistols were fired at Bowman's distance of not more than six feet, and he was repeatedly knocked down and stunned, and the blows of the pistols which struck his head were so severe as to have produced concussions of the brain. The ball which struck his temple was a very severe blow and did not enter the skin. Our informant says, that the point of the weapon, Bowman's pistol was pointing.

"The Grand Jury of Hancock County have made a presentment on the facts in the affray and conclusion as follows:

"In reference to the killing of LOWE, on the next day, which we were informed, occurred in the jail, a difference of opinion seems to the Grand Jury. A majority of the Jury, however, believe that the lives of the two persons by whom he was said to have been slain were threatened by him, and would have been unsafe if he had been permitted to live, and that the same principles of self-preservation, which justified the killing of ALEXANDER were applicable to the killing of LOWE. The Grand Jury unitedly deplore that so great provocation to violence existed in this county, and that blood has been shed in the very presence of justice. They hope sincerely that the bloody proceedings referred to may have a salutary effect upon the community; that the result may inculcate a desire to have the laws promptly administered, and impress upon those who disregard the rights of others the certainty that, in the judgment of all good men, the law is magnified when he who without right appeals to the sword is by the sword destroyed. They all regret that the law should have been inadequate to remedy the existing evil. It is plain the law must protect men or they will protect themselves, and this Jury seriously fear that unless the law is made to act more vigorously, force will assume the sceptre, and the rights of the citizens be determined by the strong arm of violence. They also hope that those who assumed the redress of their own and the wrongs of the public will not so act in removing a public terror as to become a substitute for the same in the community, and that a love of law and order may from this day distinguish and redeem the citizens of Hancock County.

WILLIAM ADAMS, Sr., Foreman.

Several citizens of Hawesville, friends of LOWE, had left the place, fearing violence. Among them were Mr. HOGE, a merchant, who is now in Louisville, Colonel JOHNSON, a coal merchant; and Mr. POWER, a merchant.

A Fraudulent Bank Scheme.

ARREST OF THE CONSPIRATORS—A BOGUS BANK IN INDIANA—$60,000 OF WORTHLESS BILLS—CURIOUS DEVELOPMENTS.

By the aid of St. Louis detectives, parties engaged in an enormous fraud upon the public, through the agency of a bogus banking institution in Indiana, have been caught and committed for trial. The St. Louis Democrat gives a long history of the case. We condense the principal facts. The institution took the name of the "Farmers' and Drovers' Bank of Petersburg, Indiana." The chief operators appear to have been WILLIAM O'BRIEN and JAMES WELLS, the latter passing as Cashier of the bank, and the former as Agent. Both these men are in custody at St. Louis. O'BRIEN was formerly a quack doctor, largely engaged in the sale of patent medicines in Philadelphia. Among his victims appears FRANCIS JACKSON RYMAN, of Odessa, Del., one of whose letters was found in O'BRIEN's possession. This individual seems to have selected of O'BRIEN's letter, and the following passage occurs in his letter:

"I have received your circular, and you be right in Moyamensing, one year for forging and false pretense. You will know the reason I could not find money, $100, you never have seen

[illegible]

[illegible] as entering the tell-room, should confound his family, [illegible] ful girl in the [illegible] pale should be [illegible] days ago I [illegible]

You [illegible] sides of a well-[illegible]

I went on Tuesday evening to the Artists' reception, at the Mercantile Hall, Summer-street. I was [illegible] melancholy display of art. There were [illegible] exhibition which merit one for going; but the majority of the pictures that hung upon the walls were [illegible] severity of criticism. The rooms were crowded. Nearly all the celebrities of literature, art, and money, were present. Splendid toilettes, [illegible] and fashion. Poets mingled nightly with common mortals, as if they had not been in the habit of feeding on ambrosia, and painters in the exclusive grounds of Pakemanu. Beauties [illegible] through the rooms, [illegible] of their lovely power, and [illegible] your unhappy correspondent. Why do artists allow poetry women to go to their receptions? What pigments, however cunningly plastered on canvas, will bear comparison with those glorious [illegible] glow on the cheeks of a [illegible] woman. For two hours I saw nothing but one glorious [illegible] the mental [illegible] right after her, [illegible] the [illegible] pale, [illegible] exhibition. It was in vain that Miller, the [illegible], was pointed out to me; it was in vain that the son of Sewell [illegible] was introduced to me; that vital point of youth and beauty filled my soul, and it was only when she was gone that I could bring myself to regard the various efforts of patience, and the few efforts of genius that hung upon the walls.

There was an illustration by BILLINGS of TENNYSON's poem of "The Sleeping Beauty," which compelled attention. Framed in a quaint Gothic device of crocketted pinnacles, peering through masses of matted foliage, lie nestled the episodes of the picture. In the centre, of course, is the Sleeping Beauty herself; her parrot spell-struck on its perch; her tiring woman sleeping near a distant casement. Beneath, the young Prince bursting through the magic fence that screens the Palace from mortal eyes. The steward lolls over his accounts; the jolly butler is frozen in the act of raising the wine-flagon to his lips; the falconer, crouched on the ground, reposes, with his hawk on his shoulder, slumbering heedless of heron or bittern. On the summit of this wonderful piece of elaboration, sits the Mistress of Magic Art—an unholy-looking beldame—weaving from her enchanted distaff the thread-work of spells that encompasses the charmed building.

This production of Mr. BILLINGS is a specimen of singular elaboration and fancy. It is, as it were, damascened all over with fanciful illustrations of the main idea. The weakest point in the picture is the Beauty herself. Her attitude of repose is commonplace, and her face weak. It would have been better had her countenance been concealed, and her loveliness left to the imagination of each spectator. The picture has been purchased by Mr. WOODMAN, of this city. Among other notable pictures, were a small lake in the Adirondack, by STILLMAN, in which desolation and silence were expressed with singular power; anamblitious coast scene by Mr. BIERSTADT, which, if not altogether successful, was in some parts remarkably well painted; a capital bit of sea—shoal water with a wreck smashing up on the comb of a huge wave—by Mr. BRADFORD, a Quaker painter, who has here given the best piece of water in motion that I have seen for many a day; some delightful heads in crayon by JOHNSTON, and one by BOWER, comprised more or less the notabilities on the walls. Socially, the reception was a great success, and perfectly satisfactory to the gentlemen interested.

The Mount Vernon Ball came off on Friday. It was a tremendous success, and was in every respect one of the best public balls I have ever seen. All sorts of celebrities were there; Governor BANKS, with his determined, go-ahead face; DARLEY, the artist, with his stalwart form and energetic countenance; LONGFELLOW, a picture of literary ease; Mrs. HARRISON GREY OTIS, tiaraed and turbaned, with a perfect garden of beautiful faces, and pretty and unpretending toilettes. A perfect decorum reigned, although there were between five and six thousand persons present. The music excellent; the decorations superb. Broad daylight streamed upon your exhausted correspondent, as he retired to his couch, the wreck of many waltzes, and the broken-hearted victim of a lovely Bostonian.

There is considerable excitement among the merchants about the removal of the Post-office, and various emissaries are now pursuing the Postmaster, Mr. CAPEN, all over the country, in order to serve him with the official order prohibiting the removal, which it seems that Mr. CAPEN does not wish to be served with; so he is now somewhat in the condition of an Irish gentleman who is desirous of not coming to close quarters with a bailiff.

An amusing blunder took place at the ball on Friday. One of the lady patronesses mistook a young gentleman—owing to a similarity of name—for a distinguished patriot now in this country. It was whispered round the room that S—— O'B—— was on the floor, and the modest young man was considerably mystified by a share of attention for which he was entirely unprepared. At last a sympathizing lady conducted him on his captivity, and the affair exploded. The involuntary celebrity assured the fair one that he had never been captive, save in the chains of love, and after having enjoyed an hour's notoriety, descended calmly to his former obscurity.

Yours,
JACK ROBINSON.

CIRCUIT.

Before Justice Ingraham.

The Bank of Wilmington vs. Barnes.—This is the action brought to recover for losses insured by plaintiffs in discounting the acceptances of Bateman & Rudderow, through recommendations as to their credit, fraudulently made, as is alleged, by defendant. The facts relied on by the plaintiffs were fully stated in the TIMES of Tuesday last.

On the part of the defence, Mr. Barnes, the defendant himself, was the principal witness. He gave substantially the following account of the interview between himself and Stanley at Bateman & Rudderow's store, at which the alleged false representations as to their credit were made.

I think I first saw Mr. Stanley at Bateman & Rudderow's store, in May, 1856; Mr. Rudderow and myself were sitting in the back office; I was reading a newspaper, and Rudderow was writing; Mr. Stanley came in; he said he came on account of the business of W. P. Moore; that in consequence of so much paper being discounted by the Bank of Wilmington, his line was full, and he could get no more discounts, and that he (Stanley) came on to see Bateman & Rudderow, and see how they stood; this was addressed particularly to Mr. Rudderow; he took his chair near him, and I overheard it; the office was only about twelve feet square; Mr. Stanley asked me what I thought Bateman & Rudderow were worth; I told him I supposed they were worth $40,000; that [illegible] the company was [illegible] Mr. Cardwell; I never met my wedding [illegible] Cardwell; Cardwell [illegible] Cardwell; Cardwell [illegible] Cardwell; Cardwell

CITY INTELLIGENCE.

COMMISSIONERS OF EMIGRATION—CASTLE GARDEN—REPORTS.—From the weekly statement published at the office of the Board yesterday morning, it appears that to the 5th inst. 4,540 emigrants arrived at this port against 4,079 to the same date last year. There are 1,815 inmates in the Institution on Ward's Island, and 166 in the Marine Hospital. The receipts from the commutation of passengers have amounted to $15,221 90, and the disbursements to $17,237 20, showing an overdraft of $16,801 30. The clerk of the Assembly addressed a communication to the Board, inclosing a resolution of the Assembly directing the Commissioners to inform that body by what authority they had commenced a suit to test their title to Castle Garden. President VERPLANCK read a reply which he had prepared, stating that a suit had been brought in the name of the people of the State against the Mayor and Commonalty of the City, from whom the Commissioners had leased the property, to recover possession of it, and that the Commissioners had thus been made defendants in the suit. The communication was ordered to be sent to the Assembly. As has already been stated, the Board will soon have to vacate the building they occupy at present. Rooms are to be fitted up at Castle Garden for their accommodation. Captain CRAVEN reported that it would be done at an expense of $600 or $700. He was instructed to proceed with the work. Captain LEONARD, of the City Hall Precinct, came before the Commissioners to call their attention to the emigrant runners. A year since the Legislature empowered the Board to license these runners, but for some reason they have refused to issue any licenses. The penalty for soliciting custom for carriages at any steamboat landing or other depot is $50 for each offence. Whenever any offender is arrested he claims that his application is before the Commissioners, and the Courts decide that he cannot be held for violation of the law. Capt. L. urged the Board to license some of these men—if it were but a single one—so that there could be some line drawn between those obeying and those defying the law. As things now are police officers as well as citizens are continually insulted. The nuisance can easily be suppressed, he said, if licenses are issued, as there will be a penalty for transgression. The Board promised to attend to the matter. Little faith was put in KAY Hollow, R. FURGUSON, Esq., offered the following resolution: Resolved, That written notice be given to the Commissioners of Metropolitan Police of the proceedings of a meeting said to have been held in Richmond County in relation to the destruction of the buildings, &c., at Quarantine, and the proper legal notice be served upon the Sheriff of said County, in order that measures may be taken by said authorities to prevent the occurrences alluded to. The resolution was adopted, and the Board adjourned.

TRIAL TRIP OF THE NEW TEHUANTEPEC MAIL STEAMER.—The steamer Costaccalcos, (formerly the America,) which has been purchased by HARGOUS BROTHERS for the Louisiana Tehuantepec Company, having been put in thorough condition for the new business, yesterday made an Engineers' trial trip down the bay, the object being to test the working of the machinery, the rate of speed, and other qualities. As she steamed down the East River her appearance was greeted by the usual salutes from the steamers. She proceeded down the bay against a strong flood-tide. Her time from the Battery to Fort Hamilton—7¼ miles—was 32 minutes, the engines making 17 turns per minute, and the steam-guage indicating an average pressure of only 20 pounds. The working of the engine was so regular and steady that there was no perceptible motion to the steamer while she was gliding through the water at the rate of 10 miles an hour. After passing below the Narrows, she was turned about and headed for the City. The time occupied in running the same distance as before was 26 minutes, the tide favoring her, but with a very fresh breeze ahead. She passed up the North River a short distance, receiving salutes from the steamers in the harbor, and then made another trip down the bay. Mr. BALDWIN, the chief Engineer of Mr. BALLWAY, under whose supervision she has been fitted up, were highly pleased with the results of the trip. The steerage, which will accommodate over three hundred passengers, is eight feet high, with full provision for ventilation, and the whole arrangement adapted to the health and comfort of this generally neglected portion of the traveling community. The saloon upon the main deck is divided into state rooms, nearly all of which contain a double bedstead, with every accessory of comfort, and plenty of room. The upper saloon is similarly arranged, all the rooms being large, and provided with bedsteads instead of berths. Upon the second return of the steamer from the Narrows, a collation was served in the main cabin, at which some fifty sat down. Among the guests were J. McLEOD MURPHY, agent of the Transit, L. P. MYERS, of Tehuantepec, the Messrs. HARGOUS, Mr. E. E. JENKINS, and several ladies. The steamer finally moored at the foot of Spring-street, North River, where she will receive her freight and passengers, and sail on or about the 15th instant for New-Orleans. The following is a list of her officers: THOMAS W. WARNER, Commander; Charles E. Boardman, Chief Engineer; Thomas Wright, 1st Assistant Engineer; Jos. Hatch, Purser; J. W. Hutchinson, 1st Officer; J. Woodhine, 2d Officer; John Nelson, Storekeeper; John F. Mills, Steward.

OBSERVANCE OF ASH-WEDNESDAY.—The ceremonies appropriate to the celebration of Ash-Wednesday were generally observed yesterday by the Episcopal and Catholic churches of the City, and the attendance has been large. At Trinity Church the services began at ½ 9 o'clock A. M., when there was a large congregation present. The regular ministers of the Parish officiated, the exercises consisting of prayer, reading the Lessons, and the recitation of the Litany. The services were somewhat varied in the afternoon, the choir, which consisted wholly of males, taking position near the chancel, and singing the hymns with excellent effect. The Rev. Dr. OGILBY preached a sermon from Mark, 8th chapter and 36th verse: "For what shall it profit a man if he shall gain the whole world and lose his own soul?" In all the Roman Catholic Churches masses were performed during the forenoon, and vespers were celebrated in the evening. The attendance was very general and devout.

ATTEMPTED WIFE MURDER.—GEORGE DURE, a Frenchman of notorious character, who has frequently figured of late in the police reports, and who is the keeper of a disreputable house at No. 27 Centre-street, on Tuesday night made a murderous attack with a knife upon the person of his wife, while laboring under a fit of delirium tremens. He cut her severely about the face and head with the weapon, and was only prevented by the interference of bystanders from killing her. Officer GRADY, of the Sixth Precinct, on hearing the alarm rushed into the house, and took the infuriated man into custody. He was yesterday examined before Justice CONNOLLY, and committed in default of $1,000 bail, to answer the charge of felonious assault.

DESPERATE ATTEMPT TO COMMIT SUICIDE.—Early last evening a Danish sailor, who gave the name of WILLIAM HAMILTON, was brought to the New-York Hospital suffering from the effects of poison administered by himself. HAMILTON says that within a few weeks he has taken three ounces of laudanum, and for a week has taken half a teaspoonful of arsenic daily. The man was nearly dead, and should he live will always suffer from paralysis. The necessary remedies were administered by Dr. NOLAN, who says it is one of the most curious cases he has ever seen. The reason assigned for the attempt at self-destruction is unrequited love.

INSUFFICIENCY OF FURNACES AND HEATING APPARATUS.—The Board of Fire Insurance Companies recently appointed a commission to examine into the general security of stores, dwelling-houses and churches, as regards their heating apparatus. The result of their investigations is interesting, and at the same time startling. Two hundred and seventy-nine churches have been examined in this City, and of these 116 were found to be unsafe. In 63, the defects were attributed to ignorance or carelessness of the commissioners. In Brooklyn, 37 churches were examined, 23 were found unsafe, and 20 of these were corrected. If so large a proportion of churches are unsafe, how do it likely to be with dwelling-houses?

REPUBLICAN CENTRAL COMMITTEE.—The regular meeting of this Committee was held at No. 618 Broadway last evening—Judge PARSONS in the Chair. Alderman BEAKE moved that Reporters be admitted, but the motion was laid on the table, (20 to 25.) The President announced the members of the Executive Committee, consisting of one from each Ward. A Committee and resolutions in favor of a registration of voters was adopted with great unanimity. The meeting then adjourned.

THIRD MEETING OF JOURNEYMAN CARVERS.—The adjourned meeting of the Furniture Carvers was held last evening at the Steuben House, when a resolution was adopted that a general demand be made upon the employers for an increase of wages, and that they report the result on Saturday evening. Should the demand not be complied with, a general strike is contemplated.

AN UNNATURAL SON.—A woman named SUSAN DAVIS, ninety years of age, applied for relief to an acquaintance, also named DAVIS, living at No. 291 Ninth-avenue, several days ago, stating that she had been turned out of doors by her son. Mr. DAVIS furnished her with a room and food, and yesterday morning the aged woman was found dead in her bed. A Coroner's inquest will be held to-day.

THE CHARITY BALL.—Notwithstanding the very stormy weather on the evening last week when the charity ball was held at the Academy of Music, over $2,000 were raised for the Nursery and Child's Hospital. The expenses, for calcium-lights, painting, rent, &c., were large, amounting to about $1,200; but the surplus is sufficient to pay off the principal of the debt contracted for the erection of the building occupied as a hospital in Fifty-first-street.

LECTURE ON EGYPT.—WILLIAM C. PRIME, Esq., delivered the third and last lecture of his course on Egypt this evening at the Brooklyn Athenæum.

Coroners' Inquests.

MURDER MAN FOUND.—The body of PETER TURNER, late City of Baltimore, and who had been missing since Sunday, was found yesterday, at the foot of Spring-street, North River. Coroner O'HANLON has inquired, and a verdict of supposed accidental death.

Police Intelligence.

ARREST OF A SCOUNDREL.—Yesterday morning a German girl aged 19, named Mary Hal, a dress maker by trade, was walking in the Bowery, near Bayard-street, when she was accosted by a man who asked her if she would like employment, saying that he knew of a place where they were in want of seamstresses, and would pay good wages. After some further conversation he induced the girl to accompany him to the place he had described, which proved to be a notorious den of prostitution at Nos. 8 and 10 Mott-street. Immediately on entering the house the girl became impressed with a true idea of its character, and refused to go up stairs. The keeper of the house soon came down to the hall, and tried to persuade her to go up stairs, and on her refusing he attempted, with the aid of the man who had brought her there, to force her up, but she broke away from them, and escaped into the street. She related the circumstance to the first policeman she met, who proved to be Officer Sherlock, of the Sixth Precinct, and who immediately repaired to the house in Mott-street where he met the man coming out of the front door. He started off upon a run, but was pursued by the officer, and after a chase of several blocks, was captured and taken before Justice CONNOLLY, where he gave the name of Fred. Ellinger, and was locked up for examination.

POCKPOCKET IN CHURCH.—Mrs. Emily Warner, of No. 537 Fourth-street, had her porte-monnaie stolen while attending church in Second street. Fortunately the rogue was detected, and the money recovered. The prisoner—who gave his name as Edward Gilmore—was committed to Essex Market Prison.

FUGITIVES FROM CHICAGO.—Frederick Schoffer was yesterday arrested in this City, charged with being a fugitive from Chicago, Ill. He is said to have been concerned in robbing a jewelry store. Justice CONNOLLY consigned him to the Tombs, to await the arrival of a Chicago officer.

ARREST OF A THIEF.—A Frenchman named G. E. Pottee was arrested yesterday charged with stealing a gold watch valued at $100, a pocket-book containing $90, and other articles valued at $200, from the house of Henry Egle, No. 2 Delancey-street. A portion of the stolen property was recovered. The prisoner was committed for trial.

The Murder by a Chinaman.

INTENSE EXCITEMENT IN THE FOURTH WARD—ATTEMPT TO LYNCH THE MURDERER—CORONER'S INQUEST AND VERDICT.

The murder of the woman, MARY FLETCHER, and attempted murder of two other women, on Tuesday evening, by QUIMBO APPO, the Chinaman, created an intense excitement yesterday in the neighborhood of the scene where the bloody crime was perpetrated. At an early hour a large crowd convened in Oliver-street, in front of the house where the tragedy occurred. When the Coroner arrived to hold the inquest the throng numbered several thousand. A rumor early in the morning reached the Fourth Ward Station-house, where APPO was temporarily committed, that a mob stood ready to lynch him the moment he was brought out of his cell into the street. Captain WATERBURY deemed it hardly worth while to give any heed to the rumor, but, in order to be on the safe side, he detailed a strong Police force to accompany the prisoner to Oliver-street, preliminary to the holding of the inquest. An infuriated rabble followed close upon the heels of the officers, but they did not venture upon any positive interference then. It was evident, however, that the pursuers felt desperate, and that the threat was not wholly an idle one. The crowd in front of the house did not interfere in the least to prevent the officers from entering with their prisoner.

[illegible]

Coroner JOHNSON, sworn—I reside at No. 47 Oliver-street; between 7 and 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening I heard a row going on in the room adjoining mine occupied by the Chinaman Appo and his wife; previously I had heard Appo and his wife disputing, and knew that the disputes generally originated from Mrs. Appo's having been drinking to excess; the dispute on this occasion seemed more violent than usual and I went into their room to see what the difficulty was; on entering the apartment, I saw Mrs. Fletcher the landlady, who was remonstrating with Appo for beating his wife; Appo was indignant at her interference, and seizing a dagger attempted to stab her with her; Mrs. Fletcher seeing the dagger in Appo's hand instantly ran out of the room; Appo pursued her and overtook her in the hallway; a short struggle ensued, and Mrs. Fletcher fell to the floor exclaiming, "Oh, God, I am killed;" Appo immediately rolled her down stairs; I ran down to the bottom of the stairs, and Mrs. Fletcher was then breathing her last; blood was flowing profusely from her; during the struggle I interfered to save the life of the deceased, and the prisoner stabbed me in the head; he struck at me with an evident intention to take my life also; he was very much excited, and his eyes looked wild; he said nothing, but acted as though he meant to kill everybody in the place.

Catharine Appo, sworn—I am the wife of the prisoner; we have been married nearly seven years; on Tuesday evening my husband came home, and commenced scolding me for being intoxicated; I talked back to him; we both talked in a loud and excited manner; pretty soon Mrs. Fletcher and one or two other women living in the house came into the room; at this time my husband was beating me, as I lay upon the floor, having first knocked me down; the women pulled my husband off from me, and I then ran out of he room; Mrs. Fletcher and another woman had an altercation in the entry-way with my husband; I did not see my husband stab Mrs. Fletcher; during the altercation I saw one woman endeavor to strike my husband with a smoothing iron; I recognize the dagger produced as one which belonged to my husband.

James Young, sworn—I am a policeman, attached to the Fourth Precinct; about 8 o'clock Tuesday evening a man reported at the Station-house that a Chinaman had killed a woman, and seriously stabbed two others; I immediately started to hunt for the alleged murderer, having been told that he had escaped; I went to a China boarding-house, corner of James and Cherry streets, and inquired if he was not there; several Chinamen who were present showed some excitement at my inquiry, but they declared Appo was not in the building, and they had not seen him in the building; their manner excited my suspicion, and I at once made a search of the house; after considerable search I found Appo concealed under a bed on the upper floor; I took him to the Station-house; on the way he confessed having stabbed Mrs. Fletcher; he laid all the blame to his wife, saying she was a drunkard, and that she would not heed his entreaties to let liquor alone.

Officer Bailey, of the Fourth Precinct, corroborated the evidence of the previous witness.

Patrick H. Fletcher, sworn—I reside at No. 47 Oliver-street; the deceased was my wife; I was in store at the corner of Oliver and Madison streets about 8 o'clock on Tuesday evening, when one of my daughters came and told me her mother was killed; I went home and found my wife almost dead; she was unable to speak; I was told that Appo, the Chinaman, had stabbed her; I went up into his apartment to search for him; his wife immediately struck me on the head with a stool, inflicting a severe wound on my left eye; I have frequently heard the prisoner quarrel with his wife; I found the dagger now shown near the body of my wife; I never saw it before, but gave it to an officer.

Dr. Ferguson testified that he made a post-mortem examination of the body of the deceased; there were three incised wounds; the one producing death penetrated the neck on the left side and entered the apex of the left lung; the immediate cause of death was hemorrhage.

There being no further evidence the case was submitted to the Jury, and after a few moments deliberation they rendered the following verdict: "That MARY FLETCHER came to her death by hemorrhage from wounds inflicted with a dagger in the hand of QUIMBO APPO, at No. 47 Oliver-street, on the 9th day of March, 1859."

Following the rendition of the verdict the accused was examined by the Coroner, and replied to the questions as follows:

Q.—What is your name. A.—QUIMBO APPO.
Q.—How old are you? A.—Thirty-four.
Q.—Where were you born? A.—Tchusen in China.
Q.—Where do you live? A.—No. 47 Oliver-street.
Q.—What is your occupation? A.—Tea trader.
Q.—Have you anything to say, and if so what, relative to the charge preferred against you? A.—I wanted to keep my wife from bad company, on account of which I was yesterday provoked to a quarrel with deceased, and other women; so many set on me that I seized a dagger lying on the bureau and stabbed Mrs. Fletcher.

The wife of APPO was committed to the House of Detention in White-street, as a witness. She was taken from the room before he was, and, as she left, he remarked to her—he speaks very intelligible English—"You see now, don't you, what you have got me for?" MARY GLEVERY, one of the women who were stabbed, is still at the City Hospital. Her wounds are not deemed dangerous.

Ho! for Pike's Peak!

AND THE GOLD DIGGINGS!

No mother's son should be allowed to go to the Gold Diggings without one of those VOLCANIC-REPEATING RIFLES or PISTOLS, which carry from seven to thirty balls.

Without doubt, they are the most complete weapon ever introduced with the water-proof ball, which is not effected by any changes of climate, or subject to the many mishaps to which the ordinary revolver is liable to.

With a good conscience and a Volcanic Pistol, you may sleep soundly and safely, with your hard-earned nuggets by your side.

My friend, if you have regard for your life or your scalp, do not fail to get one or more of these invaluable weapons before starting on your journey. Buy for yourself, and advise your friends to do the same. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Rifles, Carbines and Pistols, carrying from 7 to 30 balls, twenty-five per cent. less than Colt's, and so much better.

BRADSTREET'S COMMERCIAL REPORTS.

FOR BANKERS AND BUSINESS MEN.

The fourth Semi-annual Volume of this valuable [illegible] of credits, which was published on the 15th of January, having been exhausted by a rapid and extensive demand, a second edition of said volume, revised and corrected, has been issued, and is now ready for delivery to those who have not already supplied themselves with the work.

Several hundreds of the best Bankers and Merchants in different cities of the Union have assisted in perfecting the REFERENCE RECORD, thus making it a trustworthy and reliable compend of the pecuniary conditions and prospects, and business capabilities of about 35,000 MERCANTILE FIRMS IN TWENTY-SIX OF THE PRINCIPAL CITIES AND CENTRES OF TRADE in the United States.

The New-York Merchant or Banker will ascertain by a Key accompanying the Book, the grade of credit, character, habits, and capital of such as will be likely to deal with him, while the out-of-town Merchant will learn with accuracy the exact foundation on which the New-York houses base their business.

To provide for any possible errors that might occur in a work so GIGANTIC IN DETAIL, and to keep purchasers informed of the changes that must necessarily take place, the proprietors issue A PRINTED SHEET OF CORRECTIONS EVERY WEEK.

The time and trouble such a work must save, the losses it must prevent, and the influence it must have in securing a sound and profitable trade, make it invaluable to Wholesale Merchants, Manufacturers, Note Brokers, and Banks of Discount; and yet the whole, including the two Semi-annual Volumes, the Sheet of Corrections, and the facilities of the office, is furnished to subscribers at ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS per annum.

Full particulars, not embraced in this advertisement, may be obtained at the office of the Proprietors and Publishers. J. M. BRADSTREET & SON,
No. 237 Broadway, New-York, over Broadway Bank.

HUTCHINGS' LIFE EXHILARANT.

What is your complaint? Are you dyspeptic, feeble in body, depressed in mind, nervous, irritable, full of misgivings and gloomy anticipations, tormented by pains and aches which no ordinary medicines will reach or allay? What you want is invigoration. Nature requires to be reinforced. Your physical powers are torpid, and disease, having no antagonist to contend with, is gradually sapping and undermining the very foundations of your life. Unless you can revive the exhausted energies of your system, you cannot be cured. Stimulants won't do; they fill the brain with exciting gases, and the reaction is terrible. A medicine like HUTCHINGS' EXHILARANT—or rather that medicine, for there is no other like it—is your only safety. It arrests the decay of the animal forces; it brings up the constitution from the lowest point of depression to the full vigor of health; it impregnates the blood with new vitality; it regulates the liver; strengthens the stomach; gives firmness to the nerves; puts the entire physique in good working order. Take it, and we guarantee to you a new lease of life and the capacity to enjoy it. Is not the experiment worth a trial? Life and Death are in the balance. Choose between them. Price, $1 per bottle, or $6 for six. Principal dépôt No. 165 Chambers-st.; also sold at corner Broadway and 14th-st., New-York; in Brooklyn by Mrs. HAYES.

Publish This Day:
LETTERS FROM SPAIN
AND
OTHER COUNTRIES,
By
WILLIAM CULLEN BRYANT.
1 vol. 12mo, cloth. $1 25.

"The descriptive letters of Bryant are almost above praise; distinguished as they are by conscientious fidelity, scholarly moderation, that transcript, poetic beauty which is native to the author of "Thanatopsis," and above all, by a classic purity of style, fresh from "the well of English undefiled," which should make them a model for all students of elegant composition. Led by a guide so trustworthy, eloquent and wise, we find on the picturesque routes of Spain "fresh fields and pastures new," full of new lessons and new delights.

DR. RALPH INVITES THE ATTENTION of sufferers from stricture, in every stage, to his familiar and eminently successful treatment. From the application and extended experience in this complaint, he can guarantee perfect and radical cure, without painful operations, nauseous medicines or troublesome restrictions. The sympathetic or distant symptoms of this disease are generally misunderstood, and by producing a belief in the back, bad memory, loss of mental and bodily aptitude for business or pleasure, genital debility, nervousness, dyspepsia, may all depend upon stricture as their hidden cause, long before it affects the urinary stream; and especially when there has been gonorrhœa or gleet, symptoms should lead to the question whether this be their real cause. With the cure these symptoms quickly disappear. Office No. 12 Bleecker-st., two blocks east of Broadway. Hours, 10½ to 2, and 7 till 9 o'clock. Letters in consultation addressed to Box No. 800 Post-Office.

DR. WATSON HAS, FOR A LONG SERIES of years, confined his attention to diseases of a certain class, in which he has treated a vast number of cases with a success which has won for him the confidence of the public. No. 449 Broome-st., second block west of Broadway.
Dr. Watson's Work, THE CAUSE AND CURE of Nervous Debility, published simultaneously in London and New-York, in the spring of 1858, which clearly explains the nature and mode of treatment of the NERVOUS DISEASES in all its different forms, and points also in full, of SEXUAL EXHAUSTION, the effects of indiscretion, excess, or other causes. Announced as a superior kind, and drawings of every form of disease. Price, $1, post-paid.
